BARBARISM DON'T GO.

Smith's Alleged Cruelties In Philippines Ordered Investigated.

WATER CURISTS TO BE TRIED.

Gen. Chaffee Instructed Also to Investigate Charges of Torturing Natives by These Means—President Determined to Punish Brutality.

Washington, April 16.—As a result of the consideration by the cabinet yesterday of the charges of cruel treatment of Filipinos by United States soldiers, Secretary Root has made public certain correspondence. One was a letter to Senator Lodge chairman of the senate Philippines committee, which, in part, acknowledged the receipt of a copy of the testimony of Sergeant Charles S. Riley, and Private William Lewis Smith, late of the Twenty-Sixth infantry, taken before the committee Mondoy. He also endorsed a copy of a dispatch which had been sent yesterday to Major General Chaffee, commanding the division of the Philippines, and announced that directions had been given to the judge advocate general of the army to take proper steps in accordance with the dispatch.

Also there was made public the following:

War Department, Washington.
Memoradum for the adjutant general.
Cable General Chaffee as follows:

Instructions to General Chaffee.

On Feb. 19 a letter was sent you, enclosing, for investigation, copy of charges made by Governor Gardener of Tayabas province, which contained general allegations of cruelties practiced by troops on natives, and generally of an insolent and brutal attitude of the army towards natives.

On April 2 a cable dispatch was sent you urging action with all speed consistent with thorough and searching investigation.

On the 4th of March a cable dispatch was sent you directing disciplinary measures to produce obedience to the president's instructions, subordinating military officers to civil government in pacified provinces and instructing you to relieve Major Edwin F. Glenn and Captain James A. Ryan from duty and order them to Manila to await investigation into their conduct, in accordance with instructions to follow by mail.

On the 24th of March instructions were mailed you containing statement of charges against these officers and General Jacob H. Smith, as the basis of the investigation ordered by the cable of March 4.

Further instructions in both matters are required by the following facts:

Press dispatches state that upon the trial of Major Waller, of the marine corps, testimony was given by Waller, corroborated by other witneses, that General Jacob H. Smith instructed him to kill and burn; that the more he killed and burned the better pleased General Smith would be; that it was not time to take prisoners, and that when Major Waller asked General Smith to define the age limit for killing, he replied "everything over ten."

If such testimony was given, and the facts can be established, you will place General Smith on trial by court martial.

Water Cure Charges to Be Probed.

Yesterday, before the senate committee on Philippine affairs, Sergeant Charles S. Riley and Private William Lewis Smith, of the Twenty-sixth volunter infantry, testified that the form of torture known as "the water cure" was administered to the president of the town of Igbarras, Iloilo province, island of Panay, by detachment of the Eighteenth United States infantry, under command of Lieutenant Arthur L. Conger, under orders of Major Edwin P. Glenn, then captain Twenty-fifth infantry, and that Captain and Assistant Surgeon Palmer Lyon, at that time a contract surgeon, was present to assist them. The officers named or such of them as are found to be responsible for the act, will be tried therefor by court martial. Conger and Lyon are in this country. Both the Twenty-sixth volunteer infantry and Eighteenth infantry, having returned to the United States, and most of the witnesses being presumptively here, the secretary of war directs that Major E. F. Glenn Twenty-fifth infantry, be directed to proceed to San Francisco and report to the general commanding the department of California, with a view to his trial by court martial, under charges alleging the cruelties practiced by him upon a native of the Philippine islands at Igbarras on the 27th of June, 1900. If you can discover any witnesses still in the service in the Philippines who can testify in support of the charges, or if Major Glenn desires the attendance of any persons now serving in the islands as witnesses for the defense, you will direct him to proceed to San Francisco for that purpose. As the two years allowed for the prosecution by the statute of limitations is nearly at an end, no time is to be lost. You will take such course in advancing or postponing the investigations previously ordered into the conduct of General Smith and Major Glenn as shall be required to enable you to execute these instructions. It is believed that the violations of law and humanity, of which these cases, if true, are examples, will prove to be few and occasional and not to characterize the conduct of the army general in the Philippines, but the fact that any such acts of cruelty and barbarity appear to have been done indicates the necessity of a most thorough, searching and exhaustive investigation under the general charges preferred by Governor Gardener, and you will spare no effort, in the investigation already ordered under these charges, to uncover every such case which may have occurred and bring the offenders to justice.

The president desires to know in the fullest and most circumstantial manner all the facts, nothing being concealed, and no man being for any reason favored or shielded. For the very reason that the president intends to back up the army in the heartiest fashion in every lawful and legitimate method of doing its work, he also intends to see that the most rigorous care is exercised to detect and prevent any cruelty or brutality, and that men who are guilty thereof are punished. Great as the provocation has been in dealing with foes who habitually resort to treachery, murder and torture against our men, nothing can justify, or will be held to justify, the use of torture or inhuman conduct of any kind on the part of the American army.

Elihu Root,
Secretary of War.

GATES PEOPLE CONTROL L. & N.

To Let J. P. Morgan & Co. Arbitrate Dispute—Some Stock Market Features, Tuesday.

New York, April 16.—The dimensions of the trading in Southern railway stocks yesterday eclipsed any ever before seen on the New York Stock Exchange. The total outstanding capital of the common shares numbers 1,200,000. The dealings recorded in the stock yesterday were to the number of 864,500 shares.

The tremendous volume of these dealings dwarfted the rest of the market and yet there were a number of other stocks in which the dealings were on a scale seen during periods of great speculative activity.

The movement in Southern railway did not become wild at any time, in spite of the extreme advance of 6¼ points to 40½. The reactionary tendency of Louisville and Nashville was also a convincing demonstration that the struggle for that stock had terminated, and the scramble to get out by the smaller operators who had followed the deal carried it down by successive stages to 125½. The last price, however, left it at 127 a net loss of only a point. Southern railway suffered at the last from the profit taking on the part of the professional element, which bought the stock recklessly, but were apparently not disposed to remain in it over night, in face of the many possible contingencies still open in the situation. The reaction carried Southern railway back to 37¾ and it closed only ⅛ higher at a net gain of 3⅝. The preferred stock gained 3¼. The extent of the public information when the stock market closed was contained in the formal statement by the Gates element that they had bought control of Louisville and Nashville and that they proposed to leave the settlement of the dispute to J. P. Morgan & Co. as arbiters. This was conclusive evidence that heavy buying of that stock was by brokers usually employed by the inside interests.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,990,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

TWO MEN DROWNED.

Boat Capsized In Steamboat's Waves. Two Rescued.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 16.—Late yesterday afternoon four men from Warrenton, O., were rowing up the Ohio river to their home at Tiltonville, O. En route they sent their skiff into the swell of the towboat Ironsides and the frail craft was capsized. John Venum and John Bonner climbed upon the overturned boat and were soon rescued.

Harry Venum and George Barcus disregarded the warning of the others and struck out for the Ohio shore, 50 yards distant, but were overcome by cramps, and drowned only a few feet from the shore. An effort by seining is being made to recover the bodies but so far without success.

MINERS VOTE TO WORK.

Strike of the Rochester and Pittsburg Company Has Been Settled.

Dubois, Pa., April 16.—At a mass meeting held by the striking miners at Punxsutawney yesterday morning the agreement made Monday between General Manager L. W. Robinson, of the Rochester and Pittsburg Coal and Iron company, and President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, was ratified. The meeting lasted three hours and the vote resulted in 837 to 526 in favor of returning to work.

Dubois and Reynoldsville miners last evening indorsed the action of the Punxsutawney meeting and the strike is over.

PRESBYTERIAN CREED

TWELVE ARTICLES COMPLETED:

Washington, April 16.—The work of the committee which is preparing a revision of the Presbyterian creed progressed rapidly yesterday. Three articles of the brief statement of doctrine were agreed upon, viz: Those relating to the Holy Spirit, justification, faith and repentance and the new birth. Twelve articles are now completed, leaving a half dozen or less to be formulated. The committee expects to finish its work by Thursday or Friday.

Yesterday afternoon the members attended the funeral of Rev. Dr. Talmage in a body.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL BENEFIT.

Matinee in Paris In Aid of the McKinley Memorial Fund a Brilliant Affair.

Paris, April 16.—The gala matinee performance at the Opera Comique yesterday, in aid of a fund for a memorial to the late President McKinley at Canton, O., was a great artistic and financial success.

United States Ambassador Horace Porter received President Loubet at the entrance of the building and conducted him to the presidential box, which was elaborately decorated with American and French flags, flowers and the arms of the United States, as were the boxes occupied by General and Mrs. Porter and J. K. Gowdy, United States consul general, and Mrs. Gowdy.

The large audience present included Robert S. McCormick, the United States minister to Austria-Hungary; the Duchess of Dino, Jean de Reszke and W. K. Vanderbilt, as well as most of the resident Americans and many Parisians.

Recitations and a ballet, in which appeared the leading members of the companies of the Opera Comique and the opera, the three Coquelins, Sarah Bernhardt, Mme. Fugere and Mme. Rejane. At the close of the performance "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by Ella Beach Yaw, of San Francisco, and the "Marseillaise." All the artists were warmly applauded and there were many recalls.

The performance added over 20,000 francs to the Paris McKinley memorial fund, which now exceeds 50,000 francs.

LOOKING AFTER BEEF TRUST.

Knox Told Committee He Some Time Ago Ordered a Thorough Investigation.

Washington April 16.—A letter from Attorney General Knox relative to the so-called beef trust was made public yesterday by Representative Ray, of New York, chairman of the house committee on judiciary. In view of the attorney general's letter the judiciary committee decided without division to recommend that the resolution of Representative Thayer of Massachusetts, asking the attorney general what steps he had taken against the beef trust, lie on the table. The attorney general's letter is given in Chairman Ray's report on the resolution.

The report, in part, quotes Mr. Ray's letter, dated April 12, to the attorney general, in which the following questions are asked:

"First—Has your attention been called to the matter alleged in house resolution 203, a copy of which is annexed?

"Second—Have you been requested to take any official action in the matter?

"Third—Have you any evidence of the existence of such a combination?"

The attorney general, in a letter of the same date, answers the questions as follows:

"First—It has not, except so far as it is a matter of general notoriety.

"Second—I have not.

"Third—None that could be classed as legal evidence."

Continuing, the letter says in part: "It is proper, I think, however, to add that owing to the positive, oft-repeated and circumstantial nature of the allegations that the law is flagrantly violated, I directed some time ago a thorough investigation to be made by one of the district attorneys of the United States for the purpose of ascertaining whether in fact such a combination existed, and whether, if so, its operations were in violation of any federal statute."

Rev. Dr. S. M. Scoville Dead.

Philadelphia, April 16.—The Rev Dr. Samuel M Scoville, assistant pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, died here yesterday of a complication of diseases. He was a son-in-law of the late Henry Ward Beecher.

GROWTH OF TRADE.

Business Conditions Favorable in the Philippines.

Washington, April 16.—The insular division of the war department has prepared for publication a bulletin showing in comparative form the commerce of the Philippine islands for the twelve months of the calendar years 1901 and 1900. The total value of merchandise imported during the calendar year 1901 was $30,162,471, against $24,863,779 for the corresponding period of 1900. The exports of merchandise during the calendar year 1901 amounted to $24,503,353, against $22,990,373 for the same period of 1900. These figures show an increase of 21 per cent in the imports and 7 per cent in the exports.

The value of the merchandise coming from the United States for the calendar year 1901 was $3,534,255, an increase of $1,381,057 over the corresponding period of 1900; while the exports for the period of 1901 amounted to $4,546,292, an increase of $1,585,441.

GENERAL MILES WILL BE RETIRED.

President's Plan Opposed by Cabinet.

IN THE INTEREST OF HARMONY.

Friends of Cuban Reciprocity Bill Are Now Confident it Will Pass, the Michigan and California Delegations Having Withdrawn Their Opposition.

Washington, April 16.—President Roosevelt is showing a great deal of pluck in his determination to place General Miles on the retired list. Within a very short time he will issue the order removing General Miles from the active list of the army, notwithstanding the fact that virtually every member of his cabinet and a majority of the Republican senators are opposed to this action. It is understood in administration circles that General Miles is accused of some new indiscretion or of doing something which the President regards as an indiscretion, and that this has had a good deal to do with the decision to act almost immediately. Unless the President again changes his mind, which is not at all impossible, General Miles will be placed on the retired list before the week is out.

With the close of the Cuban reciprocity debate in the House yesterday the leaders announced that all danger of the bill being weighted down with undesirable amendments was over, and that they felt assured the bill would pass in the shape in which it came from the committee. As the bill in its present form is sure to command three-fourths of the vote of each side of the House its passage was certain if it successfully passed the stage when amendments could be offered. The only cause of anxiety heretofore has been the possibility that enough Republicans would join with the Democrats to overrule the chair and tack on to the bill an amendment to abolish the differential on refined sugar. All the energies of the leaders have been directed, therefore, to bringing pressure to bear on the recalcitrant Republicans to induce them to refrain from aiding this plan, and at the close of the session of the House it was announced that the entire Republican delegations from Michigan and California, who constitute the head and front of the opposition, had agreed not to vote to overrule the ruling of the chair.

In the House Payne moved to close the debate on Cuban reciprocity at 3 o'clock Friday, and demanded the previous question. This was ordered by a vote of 103 to 99, but in a rising vote was lost, 105 to 120.

Only three senators were present at the opening session at 10 o'clock. Morgan said he would call up the Nicaragua canal bill Thursday.

ELKS' NATIONAL HOME.

Hotel at Bedford City, in Virginia, Purchased.

Roanoke, Va., April 16.—It was announced yesterday that the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has purchased the Hotel Bedford, at Bedford City, and will convert the building into a national Elks' home.

Bedford City is on the Norfolk & Western railway, between Roanoke and Lynchburg. The sum paid for the place is said to have been $11,000.

FUNERAL OF TALMAGE

Services Held Over His Body, at Church of Covenant, In Washington.

EULOGIZED BY THREE MINISTERS

Rev. Dr. Easton Declared That He, Beecher and Spurgeon Were the Three Greatest Preachers of the Century—Interment In Brooklyn.

Washington, April 16.—Funeral services were held at the Church of the Covenant yesterday afternoon over the body of the Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage. The large church was crowded to the doors.

The funeral ceremony began at 2 o'clock and occupied considerably over an hour. The Rev. Dr. Teunis S. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, and the Rev. Drs. Thomas Chalmers Easton, of this city; S. J. Nicols and James Demarest, both of Brooklyn, officiated. The casket rested immediately in front of the pulpit, and over it was a massive bed of violets. The floral offerings were numerous, mostly of lilies of the valley and white roses, including a wreath sent from the White House by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The members of the stricken family occupied pews on the right, while across the aisle from them were the honorary pallbearers—Justices Harlen and Brewer, of the United States supreme court; Senators Cullom, Illinois; Burrows, Michigan, and Dolliver, Iowa, Representative William Alden Smith, Michigan; ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster; the Rev. Drs. Louis Klopsch, of New York, and Bittinger and Fiske, of this city; Dr. G. L. Magruder, of this city; E. H. Branch and F. M. Lawrence, lifelong Brooklyn friends of the dead minister, and B. H. Warner, of this city.

Sang Hymn Talmage Liked.

After the family had entered the male quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light," a favorite hymn of Dr. Talmage, and during the services sang "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," and "It Is Well With My Soul."

Dr. Hamlin in his address pictured Dr. Talmage as one of the great clergymen of the century. He said that Dr. Talmage in his marvelous word pictures always bespoke hope and cheer; that he aimed at the hearts and emotions of the people instead of at their intellect. Dr. Demarest referred to the student life of the deceased. He said Dr. Talmage sometimes had been charged with being sensational, but he was sensational because he must be, and it was natural. He had in his early college life shown the same marks of brilliant, meteoric genius that won his way through great achievements in the later life.

Dr. Easton protested that it was yet too early to measure Dr. Talmage; that death clears our vision, removes or minimizes our prejudices and reduces the supposed faults. He said that Dr. Talmage was made of the stock from which martyrs spring, and that no man had lived so apostolic a life since the days of Paul. He said that Beecher, Spurgeon and Talmage were the three greatest preachers of the century, but that the last named was the prince of the pulpit.

Dr. Nicols referred to the dead man's philantropic deeds and characterized him as a brave heart and noble soldier of the cross.

Asked Divine Mercy on the Stricken.

Dr. Hamlin closed the services with a prayer, asking the Divine mercy and consolation for the stricken family. Then the immediate relatives, first Mrs. Talmage, leaning on the arm of her eldest son, Rev. Frank Talmage, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Wyckoff, of Utica, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Mangam, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Donnon, of Richmond, and others of the family following, passed to their carriages. Following this the crowd within the church passed before the bier. The casket remained in the church until late last evening, when it was placed on a special car attached to the Pennsylvania railroad train leaving here for New York at 12:10 a. m. The remains will be interred this morning at Greenwood cemetery, in Brooklyn, after services conducted by the Rev. Dr. Howard Suydam, of Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Hunting For Burglars.

New York, April 16.—Rockland county is entirely surrounded by armed men, stimulated by the offer of $12,000, says a Nyack, N. Y., special to The World, for the capture of Frank Martin and Frank Wyman, the burglars who escaped from the new city jail after nearly killing Keeper Van Nostrand.

Carnegie's Gift to Union College.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 16.—President Raymond announced yesterday that Andrew Carnegie had given $40,000 to Union college. The entire sum will be devoted to the completion of Nott Memorial hall.

FOR M'KINLEY FUND.

Four Thousand Dollars Raised in Paris.

Paris, April 16.—A performance at the Opera Comique yesterday in aid of the McKinley memorial fund added over $4,000 to the fund, which now exceeds $10,000. President Loubet was present and among the performers were Sarah Bernhardt, Madam Rejane and the three Coquelins. The programme embraced selections and scenes from operas and plays, recitations and a ballet, and closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the "Marseillaise."

At the cabinet meeting Foreign Minister Delcasse read the text of a letter from President Roosevelt inviting President Loubet to send representatives to the inauguration of the Rochambeau monument at Washington, May 24. He said that a mission consisting of a general, an admiral and other officers will be sent to the United States in a French warship.

KILLED NEAR STRASBURG.

Richard Best, Struck by C., L. & W. Engine.

Strasburg, April 16.—While on his way to work, on Monday, Richard Best, of this place, was struck by an engine on the C., L. & W. railway and instantly killed. Best was a mute. He was walking in the center of the track, on his way to the Crown Fire Clay works where he was employed. He had his head down, and did not hear the whistle of the engine which was sounded to give warning. His head was crushed, his arms and legs were broken, and he was otherwise horribly mangled. The body was brought to the home of his brother, Elijah Best, in this village. The deceased was about 50 years old, and was unmarried.

TWO THOUSAND LOST.

Rebels Destroy a Force of Imperial Troops.

Hong Kong, April 16.—A courier who arrived at Canton yesterday reports that two thousand imperialist soldiers, sent by Marshal Su against the rebels were ambuscaded in a narrow defile and all killed or captured. The viceroy at Canton has telegraphed to Pekin, urging immediate forwarding of reinforcements. The lack of news from General Ma and Marshal Su is taken to indicate that the rebels have surrounded and cut off the imperial troops from communication.

BOERNER-ERTLE.

Hundreds of Friends Witness Marriage Ceremony.

Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Mr. Arnold Boerner, of Newark, N. J., was married to Miss Laura Ertle, of this city, at St. Mary's church. The Rev. Henry Kaempker performed the ceremony in the presence of about seven hundred and fifty friends and acquaintances. The bride was attired in a beautiful creation of white silk.

Promptly at 9 o'clock to the strains of the wedding march, the bridal group entered the church led by William Ertle, a brother of the bride, and Albert J. Boerner, a brother of the groom, as ushers. Next came the bride, accompanied by Miss Adaline Ertle as bridesmaid. Following was the groom and his best man, Andrew L. Boerner.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple was driven to the bride's home, where a reception will be held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Boerner will leave on the 2:13 Ft. Wayne train, Thursday morning, for the East, on a wedding trip, and will then make their home in Newark, N. J., where Mr. Boerner's home is located.

A Matter of History.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, popularly known as "The St. Paul Road," began the use of electricity for lighting in 1888. In that and many ways it has been a pioneer in the adoption of comforts for the traveler. In building the world famous Pioneer Limited trains a mark was set in luxury and beauty of cars that has never been equaled, and probably never will be.

Travel Like Princes.

Those who saw the special train in which H. R. H. Prince Henry of Prussia made his tour of the United States are comparing it with other trains in regular service, and it is admitted that none of the cars in the train compare favorably with the buffet, compartment and standard sleeping cars of the Pioneer Limited trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul in daily service between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis. The people of this country have the satisfaction of knowing that at any time they cannot only travel like Princes, but can get much better service.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

In the Baseball World

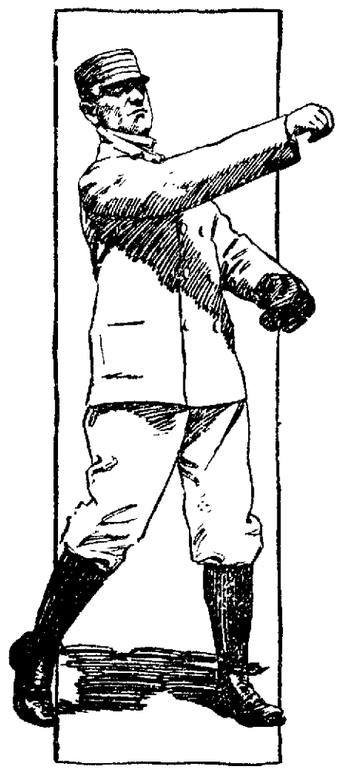
THE American league is now thoroughly ready for action. Teams are practicing hard and rounding into form for the season, which opens April 23. Ban Johnson's schedule has been arranged with a view to conflict as much as possible with the National league games, and he hopes in this way to gain an advantage over his rivals. Johnson is of the opinion that the strong personnel of some of his teams will draw people away from many National games, and he considers as a master stroke his plan of discriminating in favor of cities where National teams play.

The official makeup of the American organization, as recently announced by Johnson, is as follows:

Chicago.—Pitchers, Griffith, Callahan, Patterson, Garvin, Katoll Skoper, catchers, Sullivan, H McFarland, first base,



NAPOLEON LAJOIE

Boston.—Pitchers Young Dineen Winters, Wilson, Prentiss, Mitchell, catchers Warner, Criger; first base, La Chance, second, Ferris, third Collins, shortstop Parent; left field Hickman, center Stahl right, Freeman; utility, Daugherty, Gleason, captain, Collins.

A glance through the foregoing list shows that a large number of National players have listened to the voice of the tempter, and they add greatly to the power of the league. Chicago and Philadelphia are easily the leaders of the Americans, the former team having a slight advantage over Captain Napoleon Lajoie's ball tossers. Lajoie has been playing the best ball of his career during the last two or three years, and there is no reason to believe that he will not maintain the standard of his work this season. The Philadelphia Americans were very lucky to get hold of him last year. Napoleon is undoubtedly the greatest living player.

Comiskey's men are very sure that they will once more capture the pennant. The triumph of last season has given them an abundance of confidence.

The American schedule is as follows:

Cleveland.—At Chicago, April 27, 28, 29, 30; July 4 (2), 5, 6, Sept. 17, 18. At St. Louis, April 23, 24, 25, 26, June 28, 29, 30, Sept. 19, 20, 21. College baseball always attracts attention and the teams are playing the unimportant preliminary games. Of important western aggregations University of Illinois and University of Wisconsin. Northwestern university and University of Indiana appear to have the best outlook. All these institutions have a majority of their last year's veterans on hand. Iowa and Michigan are not very enthusiastic owing to the graduation of most of their veterans. In these two universities the followers of the game are not inclined to be confident of good results.

Captain J. V. Ware of Wisconsin has strong hopes of winning the western intercollegiate championship this season. He is a consistent player himself, knows the game thoroughly and is not afraid to make his men work hard.

J. V. WARE OF WISCONSIN

In the east Princeton and Harvard have the best teams in the field at this time. The University of Pennsylvania is hopeful, but Yale and Columbia are pessimistic. Yale has seldom been harder pressed for good material. She lost her opening game by a one sided score and for a competitor had an unimportant eastern college.

Matty to Enter Cornell.

The recent presence of Christy Mathewson at Cornell has caused a statement to be issued that the pitcher had an offer to Hughey Jennings to join the New York club, but such was not the case. Christy was only at Ithaca making preparations to enter the university to study forestry next fall and incidentally got a few pointers from Hughey on how to coach a college baseball team.

TIMELY DOINGS IN SPORTING CIRCLES.

What Champion Jones Says About Jumpers' Training—Interesting Equine Talk—Nasturtium.

S. S. Jones, the intercollegiate champion, speaks as follows on the art of high jumping:

"Almost any healthy young man can, if he so desires, excel in some branch of athletics. What he wants to do is to find out just what comes the easiest to him. I say this because I know that many men could practice for years and never make a success of high jumping, while they might become champions in some other branches of sport in a very short space of time.

"I began 'gym' work when fifteen years old, and it wasn't long before I discovered that the high jump was my forte. I was perhaps greatly aided by my exceptional height, even at that age. I discovered I had a fairly good spring and in a short time I was clearing the bar at 5 feet 2 inches. It came rather natural to me, and I improved steadily. At seventeen I won the interscolastic championship with a jump of 5 feet 10 inches. That shows how fast I had improved. From that time on I gradually improved my record.

"Under six feet I do not take a very hard spring. Above that height I use all the strength I possess in my jumping leg.

"When jumping about six feet, the landing becomes important. Carelessness in this respect may cause an ankle to be turned or a ligament torn. There is only one way to land, and that is in a crouching position, facing the bar.

"A month or so before the contest I try myself out and do this weekly until the event I am training for comes off. It is very necessary to jump to your limit once in awhile in order to become accustomed to a good height."

W. C. Whitney has been having this year a great deal of what sportsmen are in the habit of terming "hard luck." His stable of thoroughbreds was ravaged by influenza, and many of his prospective stake winners received serious setbacks; then his candidate for the English Derby, Nasturtium, was attacked by pneumonia, and last reports indicate that there is but little chance of his recovering old time strength in time to start in the classic of the British turf.

Mr Whitney paid $50,000 for Nasturtium, and the expense of sending him abroad cost several thousand more. If the horse is not in form for the race, it will be a great disappointment to Mr Whitney, but he is a thorough sportsman and in that event will probably try to capture next year's Derby. Nasturtium was sold to Mr Whitney by A. L. Aste, a New York Italian, who started life as a bootblack and still derives his income from a large number of stands.

Richard Croker's recent purchase of Clonmell's two yearling colts for 5,000 guineas again directs the attention of the English turfmen to the American's ambition. Mr Croker is fortifying his stable constantly and is reported as desirous of purchasing several of Mr Whitney's cracks.

The Croker horses are entered in the chief classic events of the coronation year. He is buying up thoroughbred yearlings because he is ambitious and hopeful of winning a future Derby. The horses at Wantage are in superb condition. Mr Croker himself overlooks their training.

WORK IN WEST VA.

Campaign on Non-Unionism More Aggressive.

CONFERENCE WITH OPERATORS.

Another Effort to be Made to Establish the Same Scale in West Virginia as in Other States of the Competitive Field—Messrs. Smith, Maier and Creedon at Alliance.

William Morgan, of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, Sunday arrived in the city from Indianapolis, where he attended a conference of the officials. Today he left for Clarksburg, W. Va., to again take up the campaign on non-unionism. He was accompanied by Thomas Burke, of Springfield, Ill., who will assist him in the work.

Mr. Morgan says that the first step now will be to gain a conference with the operators of the non-union districts, and, if possible, obtain a scale agreement similar to that existing between the miners and operators of the other sections of the competitive field. Failing in this, the organizing work is to be carried on aggressively till every mine-worker of that section has been gotten into the union.

UNIONSIM AT ALLIANCE.

Peter Smith, N. P. Maier and E. J. Creedon represented the Massillon Trades and Labor Assembly at the open meeting of striking machinists held in the opera house, at Alliance, Sunday. Each of them made a brief address, offering words of cheer and promises of support to the strikers. The meeting was held for the purpose of giving the public a correct idea as to the causes of the strike. The opera house was filled with people. The principal addresses were delivered by national officers of the machinists' union. There was also a monster parade of strikers and their sympathizers. Many women were in line.

MEANS A MOVING.

So Navarre Thinks of W. & L. E.'s Purchase.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Company having purchased the Grant farm, south of Navarre, that village is hopeful that it means the removal of the division shops to that place. Officials of the company, however, state that the farm was bought to provide a gravel supply. The farm is said to have large gravel deposit. The company paid $12,315 for the farm.

REDUCED RATES

West and Northwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

One way second-class colonist tickets to the West and Northwest, will be sold at special fares via Pennsylvania Lines, during March and April, 1902. Particular information about fares, through time and other details will be furnished upon application to Passenger and Ticket Agents of the Pennsylvania Lines. J. A. Shoemaker, agent.

Reduced Rates to the West.

Commencing March 1st and daily thereafter, until April 30th, 1902, the Wisconsin Central Ry. will sell Settlers' tickets from Chicago to points in Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia, at greatly reduced rates. For detailed information inquire of nearest Ticket Agent, or address T. D. CAMPBELL, D. P. A., 218 Pike Building, Cincinnati, O., or JAS. C. POND, Gen'l Passenger Agent, Milwaukee, Wis.

Japanese Waltzing Mice.

Among the many animals which are adopted as pets there are numerous odd and peculiar creatures. But certainly one of the oddest is the Japanese waltzing mouse. Mice have been brought under cultivation and have been so altered in appearance by the fancier that their original wild relatives would fail to know them. Yet the fancy mouse, with his wonderful markings, is a very ordinary creature compared with this waltzing member of the family.

It is no doubt true that many a tale hangs by the tail of many an animal. The waltzing mouse probably has this in view, as his main object in life appears to be to catch and investigate his own tail, the contortions and gyrations in which he indulges during the process being decidedly unique. The mice sometimes perform in pairs, but they are different to ordinary dances in that they waltz head to tail, turning so quickly that it is difficult to tell where one begins and the other ends. The faculty of waltzing is hereditary for the young mice of this variety evince a tendency to spin as soon as they are old enough to move about. There are no special markings in the waltzing mice, though they can be obtained in several different colors.

Where Men Eat to Live.

The Trappist monks consider eating to be a necessary evil and curtail it to such a degree that one step further would be suicide. Dinner, to which scarcely fifteen minutes are devoted, consists of a mess of vegetables boiled in water without butter or salt and served in a crude earthenware bowl, a slice of two of rye bread without butter and a mug of milk or water as a beverage. Supper is the barest apology for a meal, being nothing more than bread and water. The guestmaster did not mention breakfast. If there be such a meal, it probably consists merely of a glass of water. A slight relaxation of this dietary is allowed to invalids, who may have two eggs a day, while on extraordinary occasions, such as a funeral feast in honor of a departed friar, the monks revel in an egg apiece. They are strict vegetarians, and a Trappist must be in the very jaws of death before he will consent to eat meat.—Lippincott's.

Little Mothers In Japan.

Although the empire of Japan is said to be a "paradise of children," where they are allowed to do very much as they please and where they seldom if ever cry, their life is not all play. The little boys and girls have their work to do, but in many skillful ways they turn work into play. Take, for instance, the little girls who have baby sisters or brothers to care for. They tuck the youngsters into their queer garments and go on with their games of ball. If the baby grows tired and begins to fret, the "little mother" jounces it up and down over her shoulder with a peculiar humping motion of her back without stopping the game. All the time she sings some pretty song.

A Good Defense.

There was once a club formed of lazy men. Fines were inflicted on those who ever forgot themselves so far as to do anything in haste. One day several members saw an old doctor who was renowned for his laziness drive past the door of the club at a furious rate, and loudly they chuckled at the thought of fining him. But on applying to him on the ground of his having been in such a hurry the doctor slowly replied, "No, I wasn't in a hurry, but my mare wanted to go fast, and I was too lazy to stop her."

Electricity as an Anæsthetic.

Drs. Rignier and Dysburg of the French Academy of Medicine claim to have perfected the application of electricity in dental surgery as an anæsthetic. Their method of using electricity is to cover the region affected with a conductive substance and apply a current of 250 to 300 milliamperes for twenty seconds. Local insensibility is produced lasting twenty minutes.

No Resignation For Him.

Friend—Well, I hope you met your defeat with resignation.

Politician—Not on your life! I'd be there yet if it depended on me! It was too good a job to resign!—San Francisco Bulletin.

Grand Game In Alaska.

Alaska contains the grandest hunting grounds in North America. They are inhabited by the giant moose, the largest antlered animal on the earth; the Kadiak brown bear, largest of all flesh eating land animals, and the mountain caribou, largest and finest of its genus. The snow white mountain sheep is there, the mountain goat, black and yellow bears galore, and the rare, new glacier bear, as yet never seen in captivity and in only one museum.—Recreation.

Making It Important.

A lecturer in Cork once began an address by remarking very solemnly, "Parents, you may have children, or if not your daughter may have," and concluded with, "There is no man, woman or child in this audience who has arrived at the age of fifty years but that has felt these mighty truths thundering through their minds for centuries."

Impertinent.

When a young man went to a neighbor's dairy to see his sweetheart, who had charge of the institution, and asked timidly of the man, "How is the milkmaid?" the old man angrily slammed the door in his face, saying, "Our milk isn't made; it's got from the cows!"

"Green Goods" Fossils.

One of the most remarkable books ever published is the "Lithographia Wirceburgensis," written by a Wurzburg naturalist named Behringer in 1726. Probably very few copies are in existence, as the author destroyed all that he could get possession of soon after the book appeared.

He had been victimized by some practical jokers, who had made a great variety of artificial "fossils" and hidden them in a quarry, to which they then enticed the professor. Behringer was overjoyed by so rich a find and had no suspicion of the trick, although many of the fossils were of a very grotesque character.

He took his treasures home, made elaborate drawings of them and wrote a minute description of each, as well as an exhaustive commentary filled with ingenious and plausible theories.

When he had published the book, the jokers confessed, and then, of course, the professor did his utmost to suppress the work.

Samoans and Beauty.

The love for beauty of a Samoan woman sometimes degenerates into cruelty. The very word for short stature is contemptuous, pu'u pu'u, and the undersized man must perforce become a professional jester or lose all hold on society. A young man who had lost his arm in battle was heartlessly jeered by a group of laughing girls. I interfered in his behalf.

"He would not be like that," I said, "if it were not for his bravery."

"Oh, yes," they said, "but he looks so funny."

"He fought in your defense, you ungrateful creatures!" I cried.

"True enough," they replied, "but a man without beauty is contemptible."—Century Magazine.

Gotham.

Gotham, New York's alias, was originally applied to the Manhattan town in derision, doubtless because of some foolishness on the part of its people. "The Merry Tales of the Mad Men of Gotham" was a collection of satirical tales written in the fifteenth century by one Andrew Borde, a Carthusian monk. Gotham was a village near Nottingham, and the fame of the "Wise Men of Gotham" soon traveled the world over. Doubtless Henry VIII. imagined that Borde was taking a sly fling at him, for he imprisoned the hapless writer in the Tower, where only death released him.

Cholera In the Philippines.

Manila, April 14.—The cholera situation in Manila continues much the same, but the conditions in the provinces are becoming alarming. The total of cholera cases in Manila up to date is 245, while there have been 192 deaths from the disease. In the provinces there have been 418 cases and 318 deaths. Four Americans have been attacked with cholera in Manila, and one of them died.

Mrs. W. F. Breed, of No. 29 Grant st., Massillon, Ohio, says: "It was a case of inability to sleep as the result of extreme nervousness. This naturally meant debility, lack of energy. I knew of Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some at E. S. Craig's Drug Store, No. 9 South Erie street, and can honestly say they are fine. I find the nerves steady again my sleep natural and the general strength and energy good."

We live to enjoy a fly, sparrow and rat civilization.

Good cats, milk fed, around the barns are the best rat exterminators we have up to date.

Another improvement is the installment of a telephone in the country schoolhouse connecting the children with their country homes.

The best hay when made and the most difficult to make is clover. When it gets to be worth $8 to $10 per ton, we will make it in the right way—in the cock.

A spring chicken weighing two pounds sold in July will bring as much money as the same bird weighing four pounds sold in December. Does it pay to keep it?

A good bathroom should have a place on every new farm home built, even if not more than $1,200 is spent on such a home. It is not in any sense a luxury, but an absolute necessity.

While a possible crop of onions is 800 bushels per acre under exceptional conditons, an average crop may be placed at 300 bushels, or about twice as many bushels per acre as of potatoes.

The old man runs a good deal of risk with either a young, spirited horse to pull his buggy or a young and spirited wife to keep house for him. He is liable to have a runaway in either case.

A scolding wife in the home is not a pleasing thing, but if a man makes her gather her own fuel, won't furnish her soft water and takes the egg money to buy his tobacco she has a right to scold all she wants to.

Men who have tried the White Holland turkeys tell us that while they will stay at home and bring more in the market than the bronze birds they are too tender and lie down and die without any provocation at all.

We are pleased to note recently the fact that in an audience of over 100 ladies, all well and fashionably dressed, not one, so far as we could see, had a bird on her hat. We hope that the bird on the bonnet craze is about over.

Skunk farms are a failure, the two or three which were started in this country having been abandoned for the rather curious reason that when these animals are raised in captivity the quality of their fur so degenerates as to become almost worthless.

We incline to the opinion that it is all right that our nice girls should get married after they have taught school two or three years. Teaching wears out a woman faster than maternity. We cannot pension our wornout teachers, and it is better for them to quit the business before they become broken down.

It has generally been supposed that where the cornstalks were cut up and then fed to the stock no harm would come to the cattle so fed, but we have the past winter come across two cases where the stalks were so cut and fed where several head of cattle died, with all the symptoms of the so called cornstalk disease.

If you have a drove of hogs to feed this summer, plan to have an acre of rape for each thirty hogs. Plow up the old hog pasture and sow to oats one bushel, rape six pounds to the acre and turn in when the growth is six inches high. If the hogs don't keep the field fed down, turn in the cattle once in awhile. This makes the cheapest and best summer hog feed to be had.

While many men think that they cannot farm successfully unless they have at least eighty acres of land, it is still entirely possible for a man to farm very profitably on five acres provided he is located within easy reach of any large town, and if he works his five acres in the right manner he will sugar off at the end of the year with a better profit than most men with eighty acre farms.

DON'T PLANT CORN TOO EARLY.

It is well to remember that corn will do little in the way of germinating and growing when the temperature is below 65 degrees F. For latitude 41 and north April planting of corn is usually a blunder, cold weather and possible frosts being almost sure even if the plant does get out of the ground to give it a setback from which it never recovers. Our own experience and observation prove that corn planted not earlier than May 15 will, taking a series of years, make a better crop than that planted earlier.

The keeping of bees and the raising of fruit are just as happy a combination in horticulture as is pork and beans for a food ration.

Peaches and plums from South Africa were obtainable on the Chicago market in February. The price was South African also—$5.50 per dozen.

We know of one farmer who has made a twenty-five cent straw hat do him three summers. The hat is not handsome, but there is no mortgage on his farm.

A disk harrow, some grass seed and a drag brought into harmonious operation on that weedy pasture during the month of April will do wonders for it next year. Try it.

In the year 1870 the state of Tennessee had 800,000 sheep and 200,000 dogs. In 1900 these figures were reversed, and she had 800,000 dogs and 200,000 sheep. This is moving the wrong way.

There is but little machinery left out and exposed to the weather compared with what there used to be. It is strange, but nevertheless true, that the better off men have become the more prudent and economical they get.

The American mule when taken to Africa to help fight the Boers does not seem to have that regard for the British army regulations which he should, being given to stampeding and running into the Boer lines when a scrimmage is on.

The use of the manure spreader will double the value of all fertilizer spread by it as compared with the old method and will save at least half the work connected with the hard and disagreeable job of taking the fertilizer from the yards to the fields.

The spring shooting of wild fowl should be stopped in all the states. The birds at this season are poor in flesh and fishy in flavor and should be permitted to seek their northern nesting grounds in peace after six months of continuous bombarding.

THE HABIT OF VISITING.

We heard a man complaining lately that the farmers' telephone line which served him was often unavailable for business for the reason that the farmers' wives on the line had got into such a habit of visiting over the phone. We have not heard a better argument advanced for the installment of the rural telephone service than this.

PROTEIN FOODS.

We are asked to name those products which may be grown upon the average farm which are richest in protein—the milkmaking, flesh forming elements as distinguished from the fat forming products. Here they are: Clover, alfalfa, peas, beans, oats, bran and shorts. Early cut clover, well cured peas made into hay when the pods are well filled and before they are ripe, oats cut just as the grain is passing from the milk to the dough stage, are the most easily obtainable of this class of foods.

BROUGHT THEM TO TIME.

A wealthy telephone corporation, erecting a long line across a western state, tore down a local farmers' line which was in its way. When remonstrated with by the farmers and asked to repair their line, the corporation representatives treated the grangers with contempt, telling them that a company worth $1,000,000 had no time to fuss with farmers' lines. But the agent immediately put the line in repair when informed that the twenty-four farmers operating the line were worth half a million and would fight for their rights.

ROADMAKING IN THE SOUTH.

We were talking with a gentleman who lives in North Carolina lately, and he tells us that the good roads question is a very live one in that state, the county in which he lives having appropriated for this coming year's work on the highways the large sum of $60,000. The work being there done is all in the line of making macadam pike roads. The south realizes the need of such work more than does the north, for what is only a short spring season of bad roads in the west and northwest is extended in the south to cover the entire winter season.

HIGH PRICE FOR LOOKS.

We came across a case lately where the mere fact of the owner of a good farm keeping his farm homestead in neat and attractive shape—nice, large dooryard, shade trees, evergreen windbreak, house and barns well painted—refused $10 per acre more than the farms upon either side of him could have been bought for, they being equally good farms and with just as expensive buildings, but not nicely kept up. The work which this man did to make his place attractive had a cash value of $1,600 had he chosen to sell.

THE FUTURE OF GOOD FARM LANDS

Every acre of rich and fertile soil of the west will have an ultimate value of from $60 to $100 per acre, depending upon special location and farm improvements. This applies to all land in any state where 20 bushels of wheat, 50 of oats, 12 of flax, 100 of potatoes, 40 of barley, 50 of corn and 2 tons of timothy or clover can be produced to the acre, where blue grass drives out the native grasses and where the rainfall will average not less than ten inches during May, June, July and August. Latitude will not materially affect the truth of this statement. There are millions of acres of such land which may be secured at from $15 to $25 per acre which will more than double in value inside of fifteen years.

THE POTATO CROP.

A friend asks us to tell him how to raise a good crop of potatoes. The season has so much to do with the success or failure of this crop that the best work will often come to naught. Assuming that there would be an average rainfall during the period of growing the crop, we would do this: Preferably we would select a piece of new brush or timber land and, not being able to get this, would take a clover sod or a timothy or blue grass sod which had been plowed last fall. This should be replowed this spring and well asked and harrowed smooth. The seed should be cut to secure from one to three eyes in each piece. We would then furrow the field with a crossing plow, making the furrows three feet apart and six inches deep, would drop the seed sixteen inches apart, cover with the plow, drag smooth and then keep the field dragged every few days until the potatoes were well out of the ground. We would then give level cultivation only, giving the crop one deep plowing with the shovel plow, all other cultivation shallow, and continue such cultivation right through the summer if a drought should prevail in July and August. For a late potato crop, which we are referring to, we would plant about the 20th of May. A crop so cared for, with a favorable season, should produce 175 bushels of potatoes to the acre.

THE ARKANSAS COUNTRY.

A reader of these notes writes from Arkansas calling attention to the natural advantages and opportunities offered by that part of the country to men with small means who are seeking homes and cheap land, mild climate, abundant rainfall, cheap fuel, a paradise for fruit growing, and he wants to know why it is that land seekers are fairly tumbling over themselves to get land in the bleak and semiarid west and northwest and paying little or no attention to these inviting southern opportunities. It is not an easy question to answer. Fever and ague, social conditions, sterility of soil and the negro problem have much to do with the fact he mentions. It may be said that northern bred men have never readily adapted themselves to southern conditions and that all marked improvements and migrations of the American people, such as took place in the fifties and are going on at the present time, have usually followed the lines of latitude with which they started. Thus the Scandinavian, Russian and Finlander usually seek homes in northern Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota; the Irish, English and Germans those latitudes south of 41. More than anything else, it is the malarial conditions of the southern climate and the poverty of the soil which hinder a rapid settlement of that section, attractive as the south country is in so many respects.

A MEMORY.

We love to recall the old Wisconsin woods as we knew them forty years ago; we would once again walk through the shaded aisles of untouched beech and maple forests, take in the music of the woods—the bark of the fox squirrel, the chatter of the black and gray ones and the cackle of the wild pigeons as each hunted for and feasted on the beech mast; lie quietly on a couch of red maple leaves by the side of the woodland creek and see the wood duck preen his glorious plumage in the sunlight and a deer come timidly down to the head of the pool to drink; take another look at the old coon tree and listen to the faroff bay of the hound on the trail of a deer and the drumlike beat of the ruffed grouse in some alder thicket. It is only a memory now, for the woods are gone and the deer and the pigeons and the grouse and the squirrels all gone. All the music is hushed. The autumnal color and splendor went with the forest. The spring is dried up and the woodland creek is only a legend. It is now pork, potatoes, tobacco, elections, telephones, daily papers and all the row of civilized living.

SHOULD THE WOMEN MILK?

Should the American farmer permit or require his wife and daughters to help milk the cows? is a question which has come to the front at two or three of the farmers' institutes which the writer has attended the past winter. While women far more than most men are specially fitted to milk the cow—the best dairying in the world is done by women, as in Denmark—it is still a fact that as things are in this country the average American farmer will not require this service of his wife and daughters, and, more, if he did, there are mighty few of them who would do it. In a case where a man had six girls and no boys we think the proposition would bear debating at least. In the main, however, the average American woman has all the work she ought to do without milking cows.

FED 50 CENT CORN AT A PROFIT.

Here is the result of a beefmaking experiment the past winter: Fifty head of grade Shorthorn steers were bought on the 1st of November, 1901; average weight, 1,050 pounds; price, $4.50 per hundredweight, or $47.25 per head. They were fed 108 days, consuming corn to the value of $25 per head, and then sold, averaging 1,147 pounds per head, at $6.50 per hundredweight, or $94.15 per head, making the feeder's gain of $46.90 per head. As hogs followed the steers, no account is made of the roughage fed the cattle. This successful feeding experiment was only possible with well bred beef animals.

The Architect's Mission.

The architect whose artistic perceptions lead him past and beyond the limitations of constructive methods into the sunlight of forceful originality is already well on the way to that higher plane where genius stands superior to tradition or environment, and I am far on the road to error if he does not first find this in the designing of homes for the people rather than in strife for that great temple he feels himself competent to plan and direct.—Charles Hite-Smith.

How to Fasten Plaster Work.

The best way to fasten plaster work is with screws. The ornament should be so made that screws can be used; otherwise it should be nailed in the most convenient places and lumps of plaster on the outside allowed to clinch while the plaster is soft. In using plaster in a hollow piece of ornamentation it should be mixed with a trifle of lime to prevent expansion; otherwise the plaster expanding will crack the modillions or capital.

Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body.

No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right.

The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in their work of removing the uric acid from the blood.

Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Brunson Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I tried Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In them I found immediate relief, and can honestly recommend them to other sufferers."

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1902

At the Republican congressional convention for the Eighteenth district, which will meet at Alliance on May 6, Robert W. Tayler, of Lisbon, will be nominated to succeed himself.

The New York Sun fears that Henry Watterson, who at present is absorbed in inventing a platform for the Democratic party, has made a mistake in charging President Roosevelt with being a "Bronco Buster" and "Man on Horseback." The Sun says: "Mr. Roosevelt certainly is or ought to be a bronco buster. If when a ranchman he did not learn the buster's art, he neglected his opportunities; and such is not his habit. We haven't the slightest doubt that if he mounted a bronco known to be difficult his right leg would execute over the cantle and down toward the off stirrup that neat clinging curve which suggests the lover's tender and precise circling of the loved one's waist, and denotes the accomplished horseman of the plains. Also, at the first sign of 'buck' that the spectator would see the rider's body incline a little to one side, and the weight rested chiefly upon one foot in preparation for the equine explosion, and then the explosion still leave the rider on top of the horse. Mr. Roosevelt may not be the best buster in the country, but he is probably pretty good—possibly better than he is in the saddle used in Col. Watterson's home of Kentucky and in polite life generally. The reason why Col. Watterson is not politically happy in calling President Roosevelt a Man on Horseback and a Bronco Buster in one breath, is probably apparent to most citizens of the United States. Bronco bursting, taught in the soul-stirring and peculiarly American freedom of the Western frontier, is the most unlikely school possible for developing a despot that would suit the stuffed procession for which Col. Watterson is now busy pasting up the posters."

ECONOMIC STUDIES IN THE SCHOOLS.

Another movement in the school world that promises to develop a more active type of good citizenship is a more general introduction into the school curriculum of those studies that deal directly with social and political life. Progress along this line has been slow, to be sure. The per centage of schools that have given to them any place at all in their programmes is not large and the significance attached to them in the programmes where they have found a place has been too small. The teaching of these subjects, too, has been, as a rule, far from satisfactory owing to a want of interest and training on the part of instructors to whom they have been assigned. There are many, indeed, who seem to share with President Hadley, of Yale, the view that formal instruction in political science and political economy in the common schools can do little good and may result in positive harm.

On the other hand, it is possible to marshal a long list of names of illustrious statesmen and educators, from Milton's time down to our own, who have warmly advocated the study in public and private schools of subjects pertaining to politics.

And our whole experience as a nation proclaims President Hadley wrong when he assumes that because a man possesses the virtues of courage, discipline and loftiness of purpose, he will therefore acquire "the knowledge which is essential to the conduct of the country's institutions and the reform of the abuses that may arise," unless, indeed, he lays unusual emphasis on the phrase "loftiness of purpose." Thousands of men and women who possess these qualities in a high degree, as the terms are ordinarily understood, and who have had all the advantages of the schools, are our very poorest citizens, because they have no sense of civic duty and no adequate knowledge of civic relations.

To awaken his sense of civic duty and to give it intelligent direction is the reason for introducing into the public schools those studies that deal directly with the political, industrial and social relations of the members of a community; nor will anything be sacrificed in the way of a general training, because of the introduction of these studies into the school programme. They have a disciplinary value as well as practical value.—Prof. Edward Emory Hill in Gunton's Magazine.

Canton Wants a Bridge, to Cost $175,000.

MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Secretary Monnot, of the Canton Board of Trade, Meets with the Local Board and Explains the Situation—Special Act of Legislature Required Before Bonds Can be Issued.

The board of trade met in special session Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of receiving a proposition from the Canton board of trade relative to constructing a bridge from Lake street, Canton, to the cemetery.

The Canton board sent over as its representative Secretary Monnot. Mr. Monnot gave a full explanation of all the expectations and hopes along this line, and ended with a request for the hearty co-operation of the Massillon board of trade. The proposed bridge, Mr. Monnot said, would cost $175,000, which would be furnished by issuing bonds to that amount. This would require a special act of legislature and it was in the interest of this measure that Massillon's aid was solicited.

Mr. Monnot said in part: "This is a county enterprise. At present Canton has but one outlet from the western side of the city and that is via Tuscarawas street. This bridge is needed not only to enable the eastern residents of Canton to cross to the west side, but as an avenue of entrance to the proposed McKinley memorial tomb. The proposed bridge will lead directly to the site on which the monument will be located. The bridge will be 600 feet long, with 60-foot spans, crossing the B. & O. railroad, the creek and the water works race. The citizens have donated the necessary land, and the railroad company will stand for a good portion of the expense."

Mr. Monnot said that Stark county was in the best of condition financially, at the present time, for the issuance of these bonds, and that boards of trade from other cities had already sent in their approval of the plan. About the only opposition raised so far is that of the county commissioners, who objected to the selection of four members on the citizens' committee, instead of three, which was to meet with the commissioners to arrange details of the petition to the state legislature.

After Mr. Monnot had concluded his remarks the subject was discussed by members of the local board. Opinions seemed to be divided on the matter. Mr. Howells favored the project, saying: "Massillon has done her duty toward the McKinley memorial fund. If this bridge will be a benefit to the McKinley monument and Stark county citizens, we should do our part again and express our approval of the plan." Mr. Howells then made a motion to that effect. Mr. Brown, in his remarks on the motion, thought it would be wise to defer action until a larger turnout of the board could be secured. This was put in the form of a motion and carried. A special meeting will be held Thursday night at 7:30 for the purpose of discussing this matter thoroughly. A committee of three, consisting of Members Koons, Brown and Snyder, was appointed to view the proposed site, draw up a chart of the grounds, and report at the Thursday night meeting.

On motion of Mr. Koons, the board then adjourned to meet Thursday night at 7:30 o clock in the mayor's court room.

QUICK WORK BY OFFICERS.

Four W. & L. E. Employes Under Arrest.

WERE WANTED AT NAVARRE.

Twenty-five Minutes After Receipt of Message from Navarre the Men, Who Are Charged with Disorderly Conduct, Were Caught at the Columbia Yards.

Marshal Kitchen and Policemen Getz and Wittmann made a record Tuesday morning in the speed with which they placed under arrest the men wanted in Navarre for disorderly conduct at that place. Receiving a message at 8:30 to the effect that the four men were aboard the interurban car, they waited for this car, only to learn that the men had jumped off at the Columbia crossing, and taking the next car for this point they were told that the men had gone in the direction of the yards. After a few inquiries and some searching the men were located in the offices of the W. & L. E. yards, and twenty-five minutes after the receipt of the message they were placed under arrest. One of the culprits showed a tendency to bolt when Marshal Kitchen walked into the room, but upon opening the door he bumped into Policemen Getz and Wittmann and changed his plans.

The charge against the men is disorderly conduct, one of the Navarre hotel keepers claiming that they had broken some windows and beds and left without settling for the damage done. The men came here for the purpose of drawing their pay from the W. & L. E. They are members of the Navarre fence gang of the W. & L. E.

Mayor Warwick, of Navarre, reached the city on the 10:30 car and took the men back to that place where they will stand trial.

If its for the kidney, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women the best is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and a very simple way to find out if you need it is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance; if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"I WISH I'D KILLED HIM."

One Regret of Woman Who Shot McNair.

HE WAS NOT TRUE TO HER.

Sarah Robinson, the Dusky Belle of Smoky Hollow, Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Shooting with Intent to Kill—Gould Not Give Bond for $2,000.

Sarah Robinson, "the Queen of Honkeytonk," wretched from jealousy for weeks, has been happy since 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, when she shot and probably fatally wounded her sweetheart, Walter McNair, "the King of Honkeytonk." Both the woman and McNair are colored. McNair conducts a saloon at the corner of Canal and South street, and lives in the old stone house near the place. The woman also has rooms in the stone house.

The story of the shooting, as told by McNair, is that while he was in the act of drawing a glass of beer in his saloon, the Robinson woman entered, walked back of the bar, pulled his revolver out of his hip pocket, ran to the door, where she turned and fired once. The bullet struck McNair's breastbone, then swerved to the right and ploughed deep into the chest. The surgeons have not succeeded in locating the ball, which is of 38-caliber. Several persons were in the saloon, it is said, among them being Daniel Eppas, a colored man. Eppas says the woman dropped the revolver immediately after firing and ran out of the place. McNair was assisted to his living rooms, and word was gotten to police headquarters. Drs. Pumphrey and Findley were summoned. Meanwhile the woman went to the saloon of Nicholas Schneider, in the vicinity and, without telling Schneider of what she had done, begged to be concealed. She was then much excited.

"What do you want to hide for? Have you been having trouble again?" asked Schneider.

The woman was calmer now. "No, there's no trouble exactly. I've shot my sweetheart; that's all. Did I say I wanted to be hid. I musta been crazy. I don't want to hide. Send for a policeman. I want to go to jail."

Schneider lost no time in doing as the woman bade him. Policemen Brownsberger, Wittmann and Getz, all receiving the word from different sources, gathered at the Schneider place at about the same time. The woman was taken to jail. She laughed and joked with the officers, and said she had never felt so joyful before in all her life.

Mayor Wise hastened to the bedside of McNair, and took his statement of the affair, which is about as detailed here. It was thought at that time that McNair would not survive the night, and his dying declaration would be valuable in the prosecution of the woman. Dr. Findley stated Tuesday that McNair is in a very critical state.

Besides Daniel Eppas, there were in and about the place at the time of the shooting I. H. Rogers, H. P. Waldon, W. H. Brannon and Monroe Hooper, who assisted in caring for McNair after the shooting. Their names were taken by the officers and they will be called as witnesses when the case comes up in court.

The Robinson woman rested well all night, and this morning smilingly inquired of Policeman Wittmann as to whether her sweetheart had died while she slumbered.

"I oughta giv' him a second shot," said she to a reporter. "I oughta plugged him once more. That'd fixed it. But Lord! I thought I done enough to kill when I saw him go down after that one shot. But I wish I'd killed him. I wanted to kill him. He's done enough to me in the last six months to go to pentitentiary a dozen times. When we was down in Addyston, O., near Cincinnati, Walt and me was all right. We lived there four years. I met Walt the first time five years ago away down in Tennessee. Ever since we been here, about a year, I reckon, we've been havin' our troubles. Walt wouldn't treat me right. This last trouble began Thursday night. I'd been uptown, and when I got back Walt kicked me around, and then locked me up in a room. All the time since then we've been having it. Walt's been paying too much attention to other women, specially white women. Monday I heard he was with a white woman again, and then I made my mind to kill him. I knew where he kept his gun, and I went right straight to the saloon without thinking any more about it and I did it the best I could. But I oughta killed him."

Both McNair and the woman are intelligent looking and rather attractive in appearance. The man has a magnificent physique, being six feet tall, broad shouldered and sinewy.

There is a story in "Honkeytonk," as the section where McNair lives is called, that the woman's real name is Mary Lewis, and that she left her husband to run away with McNair five years ago.

Mrs Robinson was arraigned Tuesday morning. She pleaded guilty to a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

"Understand what you are doing," said Mayor Wise. "You don t have to plead unless you want to. You can waive the examination and be bound over to court, and you are entitled to an attorney."

"What's the use? I'm guilty," replied the woman.

She says she does not care if she is sent to the penitentiary. She laughs when she says it.

M'NAIR DIES OF HIS WOUND.

Murder Charge Against Robinson Woman.

BURIAL WILL BE AT ADDYSTON.

William McNair, a Brother of the Murdered Man, Arrives to Take Charge of the Body and the Affairs of the Deceased—Mrs. Robinson Has Not Yet Been Told of McNair's Death.

Walter McNair, shot by his sweetheart, Mrs. Sarah Robinson, in his saloon at the corner of Canal and South streets, died at twenty minutes after eight o'clock Wednesday morning. Dr. Findley and a brother of the deceased, William McNair, of Addyston, O., were with McNair when death occurred. McNair seemed to feel certain that he would recover. Twenty minutes before death he asked for a drink of water, and remarked to those about him that he was resting comfortably. Shortly afterward he seemed to grow weaker, though he did not lose consciousness, and gradually passed away. An austopsy will be held this afternoon by the attending surgeons.

William McNair arrived in Massillon Tuesday afternoon. He says he will have the body removed to Addyston for burial Thursday. The brother, like the deceased, is a tall, powerfully built man, and is very intelligent. He is employed in a brick yard, and conducts a saloon in Addyston. The deceased was a brickmaker by trade.

The deceased was 35 years old. His wife and one child live in Cincinnati. McNair parted with his family several years ago. Sarah Robinson, the slayer of McNair, has a husband living in Tennessee, whom she deserted five years ago to run away with McNair. At that time she lived in Tennessee. Her husband, whose name she retained, however, never made any attempt to have her return. Mrs. Robinson says she is but 21 years old. Her parents, whose name is Berksome, both live in Addyston, where she also has several brothers and sisters. One brother, John Berksome, so William McNair says, is now doing time in the Cincinnati workhouse.

Mayor Bernard Bell and Marshal Kitchen went to the McNair property immediately after being notified of the death of McNair. They had been told that McNair had $400 in cash, and that this amount was turned over to the deceased's brother. The latter, however, declares that all the money given to him was $28, which the bartender had. McNair leaves a total indebtedness of about $500 or $600. He owed practically everybody with whom he had business dealings, from the baker to the brewer. No trace of the $400 could be found. The brother of the deceased declared that he could not have had that amount. "Walt and I together," he told the mayor, "could not get together $400."

There is a piano in McNair's living rooms, but this, it is said, has been but partially paid for. The furniture and practically everything else he owned, it is claimed, are mortgaged to their full value.

Mayor Bell says that the charge against the woman will be made murder by the grand jury, there being no possibility of a failure to indict, she having pleaded guilty to shooting with intent to kill. It is not thought that there will be any complications as to the bond of the woman. At present her bond is $2,000, which she was unable to give, while under the charge of murder she cannot be admitted to bail in any amount.

McNair conducted a sort of boarding house in the stone building near his saloon. His boarders were George Johnson, Nelson Campbell, Daniel Epps, Monroe Hooper and Price Hawley, all colored. Hawley is the bartender. Grant Haggard, James Green and Daniel Epps say they saw the shooting. Their stories agree so far as the firing of the pistol, but there is no straight story as to how Mrs. Robinson got posesssion of the weapon. As the account was first given to ex-Mayor Wise, the revolver was taken by the woman from the pocket of McNair while the latter was behind the bar in his saloon.

"I don't think that was quite the way of it," remarked Grant Haggard, today. "I think she got the gun off the back bar while McNair was out. I believe she had it about her all the while. She came in by the back door, walked to the front door, fired and ran out. Dan Epps picked up the revolver when it dropped out of her hand."

Haggard says there were several other persons in the saloon at the time, but that he does not remember just who they were.

Men connected with the sheriff's office say that the news of the death of McNair has not been broken to Mrs. Robinson. They state that the woman still thinks McNair alive, and says her one regret is that she did not kill him.

Mrs. Robinson is the woman accused of stealing $80 from Robert Hammond, of this city, several weeks ago. A portion of this money has been recovered. One complaint of the Robinson woman was that McNair would not give her any money. She said Tuesday that she would have left him if he had given her money enough to take her back to Addyston.

"I knew that Walt was writing letters to a woman named Williams right along," said Mrs. Robinson, Tuesday, "and that he didn't care for me any more, and then all I wanted to do was to get away, but he wouldn't let me go."

The saloon which McNair owned is a wretched place. The plastering is knocked off the walls, the floor is covered with gruesome dirt, a few old store boxes do duty as chairs and one larger box is the table. The whole place is stinking and reeking with filth.

A family of white people named James occupy the second story of the building in which McNair lived.

Two Very Important Industries.

While it may seem a broad statement, it is probably true, that our railroads, with their immense capitalization and army of employes, form one of the most important industries of the country. The other very important industry is the manufacture of that celebrated family medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is compounded with the greatest care, and contains nothing that would injure the most delicate system. It is backed by a record of fifty years of cures of sick-headache, indigestion, flatulency, belching, dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles and malaria, fever and ague. It is a splendid spring medicine and blood purifier, and as a tonic for the run down system it is unequaled. Try it. Our Private Stamp is over the neck of the bottle.

Mr. A. A. Slusser, Dear Sir:—I wish to say that your Sick and Nervous Headache Tablets have given me relief in every instance. Have used only half a tablet with good results.

LOSS TO MASSILLON

Death of Mrs. C. McC. Everhard.

HER LIFE ONE OF USEFULNESS.

Mrs. Everhard Was a Woman of Strong Character and Many Attainments — Her Connection with Woman's Suffrage in the State and City—The Funeral Thursday Afternoon.

As was briefly stated in Monday's Independent Mrs. Caroline McCullough Everhard, aged 59 years, wife of Henry H. Everhard, died at her home, 195 East Main street, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, after an illness which reached its acute stage several weeks ago. In March Mrs. Everhard went to Toledo to undergo an operation for the purpose of removing a tumor in her neck. For several weeks after the operation the best results followed. She left the hospital and arrangements were being made for her return to Massillon when the disease appeared in another place. It became apparent that the trouble was more deeply seated than had been supposed and the attending physicians were convinced that the patient's recovery was hopeless. She was brought back to her home in the city on April 4, and since that time has been rapidly sinking. She was unconscious when she passed away.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Thomas C. and Nancy McCullough, pioneer residents of Massillon and among the best known and highly esteemed citizens of their time. Her marriage occurred November 7, 1865. Her children, all of whom were with her at the end, are Mrs. Ethel Schmettau, of Toledo; Mrs. Marian Johns, of New York, and Melville Everhard, of this city.

A woman of great wealth and an owner of much taxable property, Mrs. Everhard many years ago became impressed with a sense of injustice because while paying money into the city treasury she had no voice in the making of the laws which controlled municipal conditions. This led her into the study of the suffrage question. For several years she was president of the Massillon Woman's Suffrage Association, organized in 1889, and in 1890 became president of the Ohio Suffrage Association, a position to which she was repeatedly elected until two years ago, when increasing home cares made it necessary for her to refuse the nomination. It was during her presidency, and largely due to her efforts, that Ohio women obtained the school suffrage. Massillon was among the first towns to have women placed upon the school board, an innovation which has never been regretted.

As was natural in a woman of broad mind, excellent judgment and great mental force, Mrs. Everhard occupied a number of positions of trust and confidence in the community. Beside being prominent in suffrage work, she was an active member of the board of trustees of the Charity Rotch school, a member of the board of visitors to the various institutions of the county, a member of the board of directors of the Union National bank, member of the board of trustees of the McClymonds pubile library and an active member of the Massillon Humane Society. She was one of the incorporators of the McClymonds Public Library Association, a member of the book committee and also of the committee on employes. In 1895 the Massillon Woman's Cemetery Association was organized, with Mrs. Everhard as president. She was reelected to that office each succeeding year and under her direction the organization earned money and made many valuable improvements in the Massillon cemetery.

Mrs. Everhard was distinguished in appearance and bearing. Self possessed, quick in thought and word, she was always in demand when the services of a woman were needed in any public business or meeting. At the same time, the beauty of her home surroundings and the devotion to home ties and interests made her stand as a continual refutation of the charge that a woman suffragist must of necessity neglect her home, husband and children. No woman was ever more devoted to all these than she.

One of her strongest characteristics was her devotion to animals. The helpless suffering of dumb brutes caused her the keenest anguish. No tale brought to her ears concerning the ill-treatment of a horse or dog was too trivial to warrant instant attention. She was fond of nature and her garden was one of the most beautiful in Massillon. It was here during the summer that her friends usually found her.

In spite of the many business, home and public matters which claimed her attention, Mrs. Everhard made time for social duties. A keen though kindly sense of humor and ready wit made her the best of companions. Her friends were many. Through her death Massillon has lost a valued citizen.

The funeral will take place from the residence on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. C. M. Roberts, until recently rector of St. Timothy's church, will return from Philadelphia to officiate. The burial will be private.

TALK OF THE LONG AGO.

It Develops That the Mayor and the ex-Mayor Began Life Together in the Store of Allman & Wetter, Some Twenty Years Ago.

"Do you remember, Jake, those old days, twenty years ago, when you and I were cash boys in Allman & Wetter's store together?" asked Mayor Bernard Bell, of ex-Mayor Jacob Wise, as they sat down to dinner together, at the Hotel Conrad, Tuesday. "Jake" had forgotten, but a little more talk brought back the remembrance, and then were old-time tales for hours.

Mr. Bell took the oath at 12:15 o'clock Tuesday. It was administered by the retiring mayor, in the presence of City Engineer Howald and some newspaper men, who were among the guests at the ex-mayor's dinner a little later.

EX-MAYOR JACOB WISE.

The form of the oath is: "I solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Ohio, and that I will faithfully, honestly and impartially discharge the duties of the office of mayor of the city of Massillon during the time that I shall continue in said office."

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Excellent Programme Arranged by the Printers' Union.

The Massillon Typographical Union has joined the force of local organizations in the entertainment line, and will make an effort to outdo other performances of this kind, and has secured the services of some of the very best of outside talent as well as the best in the city and vicinity. The committee having the arrangements in charge, has been successful in making terms with the celebrated magician H. Val Dern. Mr. Val Dern has a reputation as one of the best sleight-of-hand artists in the country. One of Mr. Val Dern's most interesting feats is the mind reading exhibition.

Miss Kittie Hagan, Massillon's well known elocutionist, will appear in a repertoire of recitals.

Messrs. J. R. Dibell and Henry Eberwein, both of this city, will render cornet and piccolo solos and duets. Alfred Eberwein will give selections on the piano and accompany the vocalists and soloists. Other features are being arranged by the programme committee and an excellent entertainment is assured.

The enterainment will be held in the Trades and Labor Assembly hall Monday evening, April 28. The price of admission is 25 cents.

MONEY FOR THE HOSPITAL.

Much Less Than the Sum Asked For.

$224,000 IS APPROPRIATED.

The Massillon Institution Fares Well, as Compared with Others in the State—Bids Will be Received for New Buildings in a Short Time.

The appropriation bill came up before the legislature Tuesday and after many cuts and amendments the bill was passed providing for appropriations to the amount of $4,156,537. Of this amount the local hospital will receive $224,000. The amount originally asked for by Dr. Eyman was $323,500. This was a much larger cut than was expected by Dr. Eyman and those interested in the asylum. Chairman Craft, of the finance committee, in speaking of the appropriations, says that in spite of the cuts the state charitable institutions are well cared for. Any tendency towards extravagance has been checked, and as a consequence numerous clerkships will have to be cut off and other clerks get on with a much smaller salary.

As compared with the amount given other charitable institutions throughout the state, Massillon fared very well. The Cleveland hospital asked for $226,400 and received $168,400. Massillon received $224,000 of the $323,500 asked for, while the Mansfield reformatory was cut from $441,800 to $132,250. The Sandusky soldiers home received $111,580, the Ohio state hospital at Columbus, $239,700, and the Toledo state hospital $262,000.

Bids will be received by the local institution for the erection of the new buildings at a very early date.

While the action of the legislature does not really fix the appropriations, their recommendations are generally approved by the Senate and the amounts named will probably stand.

BECAUSE BOYS ARE SCARCE.

Why New Plant Will Not Locate Here.

WOOSTER THE LUCKY TOWN.

The Massillon Bottle and Glass Company has practically completed arrangements for the building and equipping of a bottle and glass factory in Wooster. The new plant will be of the same capacity as the local plant, employing the same number of men and run on the same scale.

The Wooster citizens are to raise $20,000 for the purpose of erecting the buildings. They have already donated the site. The firm expects to begin the erection of the new buildings within the next three weeks and have everything in working order by September.

This new enterprise will not interfere in any way with the local plant. The Massillon works will be operated under the same management. It has not been settled as yet whether the offices will be moved from Massillon to Wooster, but in any event the officials will spend half their time in Massillon and half in Wooster.

The increasing demand for this line of goods led to this move on the part of the company. They say it is impossible to get the required number of boys in Massillon to enable them to erect the addition in this city, and for this reason Massillon had no opportunity to bid for the plant. In speaking of the reasons for selecting Wooster as the place to locate H. F. Pocock, who has charge of the Massillon plant, said: "While Wooster offered us a smaller guarantee than the other towns who were bidding for the plant, we selected Wooster because we can get a good quality of sand. The sand is close to the proposed site. The shipping facilities are only fair. Two railroads run close to the plant. It will be necessary to use Massillon coal as it can be secured cheaper and with more convenience than any other kind."

Mr. Pocock said the force of glass blowers in the local works will be increased in number from sixty to seventy-two within the next few months. This is the force which they expect to employ at the new plant. The pay roll will amount to something like $180,000. $80,000 will be used in erecting the buildings, etc.

Contractors and Carpenters Cannot Agree.

OBJECTION TO BUT ONE THING.

The Employers do Not Want to be Compelled to Hire Union Labor Only—All Other Demands Practically Granted—What an Officer of Union Says.

Building contractors still refuse to sign the scale presented by the Carpenters' Union, and it is feared that May 1, when the scale should go into effect, will see a strike on the part of the journeymen. The contractors are willing to grant the demand for a nine-hour workday without reduction in pay, but they object most strenuously to the clause which makes mandatory the hiring of union labor only. They state that they want to reserve the right to hire whom they please, so long as they pay the scale. Besides, they claim, union labor may become scarce, and contracts would be delayed because non-union men could not be employed.

"We agree to provide the employers with all the union men they need in the execution of their contracts," said an officer of the union, today, "and we must insist on union men being employed exclusively. I feel quite certain there will be a strike May 1 if this matter is not settled. We do not consider our demand unreasonable, for it is the same rule as is in effect at the mines, glass factories, and in a good many other factories and generally where organized labor is employed at all."

JOHN SCHEFNER AT HOME.

Three Years a Soldier in Puerto Rico.

John Schefner, who has been doing duty in the ranks of the United States army in Puerto Rico, returned home Tuesday noon over the Ft. Wayne. Mr. Schefner enlisted March 29, 1899, going from here to Columbus and from Columbus to San Juan. He was on garrison duty at San Juan for a year. His company was then moved to Ponce, and he was at that place for eighteen months. He received his discharge March 28, and left immediately for the states, taking passage on the transport Philadelphia, and reaching New York without mishap.

Mr. Schefner reports the best of health during his entire enlistment period, and is so well pleased with army life that he will re-enlist within a few days and return to Ponce.

"A Modern Magdalen"

AMELIA BINGHAM Scores In a Dubiously "Strong" Drama....

At the Bijou theater the attraction is "A Modern Magdalen," an adaptation by Haddon Chambers. Amelia Bingham is presenting an unusually strong company to this play, and, with scarcely an exception, each fills the requirements in an almost perfect manner.

"A Modern Magdalen" is very interesting, though unpleasant in theme. It is one of those plays which aspire to teach the moral "The wages of sin," etc., but it is an unsavory dish which is put before you to prove that the warning is necessary.

A daughter by a first wife is blest with a most unscrupulous father, who lives in destitution with his second wife, their daughter and the motherless older girl. Such a father, a virago of a stepmother and an almost dying sister whom she adores combine to cause the beautiful Katinka to realize that only through her are their circumstances to improve, and while nearly desperate she tries to decide what she is best able to do. In this strait she is tempted by the offer of a wealthy married man to enjoy luxury at the cost of honor. She scorns and dismisses her insulter to be later informed by her worthless and lazy father that her hand has been sought in marriage by a coarse but wealthy money lender who has frequently insulted her with less honorable advances.

This sacrifice she swears she will never make, and she is taunted by her parents with her selfish disregard for their poverty and her dying sister's need of proper nourishment. Though she now learns that she is devotedly loved by a noble young man, a lodger with them, she realizes that marriage with him is impossible for a year or more and also that she does not really love him. Reset by every dread for her trying position, she is startled by her sister's taunting and fast increasing weakness and determines to save her at any cost.

To save herself from Brinker she goes to the address given her by her married suitor and is lost to her family, whose condition is steadily bettered, supposedly by the awakened industry of the head of the house. The worthless father knows the source of the aid and does not hesitate to bask in the sunshine of the comfort procured through the shame of his motherless girl. In the end she tires of her life of despair, realizes the selfishness of those for whom she sinned, and from a life of vile associates and its excitement she goes to the Spanish war as a Red Cross nurse. This opportunity is made for her by her old and faithful lover, who also enlists in the engineer corps.

There is much in life of the existence of which we are aware which we would not select for parlor conversation. So for the theater. It is not necessary to teach these lessons by letting our children get their sermons from the demonstrated lives of lewd men and women.

Miss Bingham as Katinka gave an excellent performance, but was almost eclipsed by the magnificent work of the objectionable male parent, Hiram Jenkins, played by Henry E. Dixey. When last I saw Henry Dixey, he played Sheridan in "Oliver Goldsmith," and the contrast between the two roles only serves to show what a genius Mr. Dixey is.

Wilton Lackaye as Brinker has added another laurel to the wreath he so gracefully wears. It was easy to overact or underact this part, but the actor struck the happy medium and gave a masterly performance. Madge Carr Cooke as Mrs. Jenkins, Ferdinand Gottschalk as John Strong, a reformer, and Joseph Holland as Albert Lindsay, a man about town, added to the very acceptable whole. The mounting and costuming of the piece left nothing to be desired.

The male members of the playwriting fraternity ought to get together for the purpose of passing a vote of thanks to their female colaborers. Women who construct dramas are frequently annoying to the manager who agrees to stage their works, but it cannot be denied that they have persistently called attention to the fact that even dramatists have rights which the producer is bound to respect. Sometimes, it is true, this assertiveness results in the undoing of the playwright, as, for instance, in the case of Mrs. Evelyn Greenleaf Sutherland, author of "Joan of the Shoals," but the net result has a tendency to increase the respect of managers for authors.

As is well known, Mrs. Humphry Ward made her own dramatization of her famous novel, "Eleanor." Many managers were anxious to get the play, but Mrs. Ward would entertain no proposition which did not include a provision giving her practically the last word in everything connected with the production. Naturally the managers balked at this, and then Mrs. Ward determined to make the venture her own. As she is possessed of ample means, she hired the St. James' theater, London, for the purpose of giving a half dozen matinee performances of "Eleanor." Mr. Alexander, the owner of the theater, before he would sign the lease, compelled Mrs. Ward to promise to provide a suitable coronation attraction. Now Mrs. Ward will have her way, but she will also have a theater on her hands for a good many weeks more than she will need it. In consequence she is casting about for a prominent star or organization to fill the time at the St. James' after she shall have utilized it for her production of "Eleanor."

In another respect Mrs. Ward was disappointed. She went ahead with the theater negotiations, figuring that there would be no trouble in securing the services of Kyrle Bellew and Eleanor Robson. Now the managers of these two players have been obliged to inform her that she cannot have Mr. Bellew, inasmuch as he has already signed to appear with Mary Mannering during that lady's late spring tour. Incidentally it may be of interest to know that Mrs. Ward never wanted Miss Robson for the title role, as has been generally understood in this country. The role chosen for her was that of Lucy, the title part having already been given to Marian Terry, the young sister of Ellen Terry.

Now the wiseacres are wondering what Mrs. Ward will do, but that she will emerge triumphant from the dilemma in which she finds herself those who are familiar with her marvelous resourcefulness are confident.

What Corbett Thinks.

Former Champion James J. Corbett thinks Jeffries will best Fitzsimmons when they meet. "Fitz has a good punch that may land, but I think the present champion will hold the title," said Corbett. "I would like to have a match with either of them for I think I can demonstrate that science is the master of brute strength. You will recall in both battles I fought the best and did more punishing, but was whipped by strength."

Billy Madden's Champions.

Billy Madden is looking for matches for his two pugilistic champions, Gus Ruhlin and "Denver Ed" Martin. Ruhlin, Madden declares, is now the Irish champion, since he whipped Peter Maher, who held that title, and Martin, he says, is the "black champion." He will match his two heavyweights against any heavyweights.

COGHLAN OF THE RALEIGH.

One of the Heroes of Manila Bay May Soon Be an Admiral.

Captain Joseph B. Coghlan, who commanded the cruiser Raleigh in the memorable battle of Manila Bay, is in a fair way to wear the stars of a real admiral. Some years ago Captain Coghlan lost eleven numbers on the navy list by writing an intemperate letter to a clerk in the bureau of navigation. For his gallant conduct at Manila five of these were restored. Now it is believed that the president will restore the other six, which will place him first in the list of captains. This will result, at an early date, in his promotion to the rank of rear admiral.

Captain Coghlan was born in Kentucky, but was appointed from Illinois in 1863. He became a captain in 1896.

The Raleigh did her full share of the fighting at Manila. Except the Olympia, no ship did more to annihilate the Spanish fleet. She shared with the Baltimore the honor of being hit by Spanish shells. Captain Coghlan is also the hero of the "Hoch der kaiser!" incident.

KAISER'S THIRD SON.

Prince Adelbert a Cadet on a German Naval Training Ship.

Prince Adelbert, third son of Kaiser Wilhelm, in whom much interest has been aroused in America by the report that he would soon follow Prince Henry's example and visit the United States, will not be seen here for the present.

Prince Adelbert is a cadet on the imperial German training ship Charlotte, and it was expected that he would come to these shores simply as an officer of the navy and in no official capacity. Besides the kaiser's son, there are fifty other cadets on board this training vessel, which is one of a fleet of such ships maintained by the German navy.

On board these vessels the young officers are schooled in practical seamanship, gunnery and all that pertains to the handling of a warship in active service. At the same time their technical studies are continued under a corps of instructors. The idea of the imperial navy is that the practical knowledge thus acquired will be of great benefit to the embryo captains and admirals in fitting them for their future work.

Prince Adelbert, the third son of the German emperor, is eighteen years of age. He was born at the Marmorpalais, near Potsdam, July 14, 1884. In his tenth year he was entered in both the army and the navy as an officer. He is a lieutenant of the First regiment of the Imperial Foot guards and at present holds active rank in the navy as a lieutenant of the training ship Charlotte.

AIMS AND OBJECT OF THE GREAT CARNEGIE INSTITUTION.

How This Richly Endowed Seat of Learning Will Be Built Up and Conducted—Advantages It Offers to Students.

So rapid has been the progress made in the establishment of the great Carnegie institution that in a few weeks it will be ready to begin work. The men to whom Andrew Carnegie submitted his important trust have proceeded faster than the general public had any idea of, and the executive board has lost little time in laying the foundations for the erection of the institution. There are seven men on this committee, as follows: Dr. Gilman, president, Charles D. Walcott, secretary; Elihu Root, S. Weir Mitchell, Dr. John S. Billings, Abram S. Hewitt and Carroll D. Wright.

The first interest money on Mr. Carnegie's princely gift of $10,000,000 will not be ready until Aug. 1, but it is likely that long before that time experts in various lines of scientific work will be engaged in important researches under the direction of the Carnegie institution.

Much curiosity has been expressed regarding the way in which the institution will be started, when students will be admitted, buildings erected etc. It may be said that the institution is already established, there being a president and other executive officers, as well as an executive committee and a board of trustees. Its growth will be gradual and somewhat on the following lines:

As suggestions are submitted for lines of work they will be referred to the proper subcommittees. For instance, a reputable physician who is recognized as an authority on tuberculosis may ask for assistance in carrying out some experiments for the cure of this disease, not having funds of his own for the work. If the subcommittee is satisfied that the physician is a proper person to undertake such a study, it approves the suggestion and outlines a project, with estimates of its cost. This may include the erection of a laboratory at Washington or at some other point and expenses for other purposes. This project is then submitted to the executive board, is approved and the necessary funds appropriated for carrying it out. In this way the institution will have acquired a laboratory and a staff of experts in tuberculosis.

Dr. Gilman and his associates are now in correspondence with the universities and institutions of higher learning for the purpose of getting a clear idea of what ground is already being covered. It is the intention not to clash with universities that are engaged in special investigations, but rather to cooperate with and aid them, the idea being that there will be no duplication by the Carnegie institute. It is likely that Dr. Gilman will go abroad to look into the researches of the various universities and organizations engaged in original research, such as the Pasteur institution at Paris and the Royal institute of London.

The purposes of the Carnegie institution are given in the following statement by the secretary, Dr. Walcott:

To discover the exceptional man in every department of study whenever and wherever found and enable him by financial aid to make the work for which he seems especially designed his life work.

To promote original research, paying great attention thereto, as being one of the chief purposes of this institution.

To increase facilities for higher education.

To enable such students as may find Washington the best point for their special studies to avail themselves of such advantages as may be open to them in the museums, libraries, laboratories, observatory, meteorological, pisicultural and forestry schools and kindred institutions of the several departments of the government.

To insure the prompt publication and distribution of the results of scientific investigation, a field considered to be highly important.

These and kindred objects may be attained by providing the necessary apparatus, by employing able teachers from various institutions in Washington and elsewhere and by enabling men fitted for special work to devote themselves to it, through salaries, fellowships or scholarships or through salaries, with or without pensions in old age, or through aid in other forms to such men as continue their speical work at seats of learning throughout the world.

SEMI ANNUAL DRILL

Entertainment Given by Knights of St. John.

INSPECTION BY COL. FORSTER.

The Navarre Commandery Participates—Supper Served by the Wives of the Knights in St. Mary's School Hall—Speechmaking and Music.

The Navarre and Massillon commanderies of the Knights of St. John gave their semi-annual drill Sunday afternoon at 3:30 on the grounds of St. Mary's school. The examination was conducted by Lieutenant Colonel Fred. R. Forster. Col. Forster's staff was composed as follows: Major James Sells, Canton; Major J. Hogan, Alliance; Adjutant William Faust, Akron; Inspector Fred S. Smith, of Akron; Quartermaster Peter Obringer, of Canton; Paymaster P. J. Conlin, of Alliance; Commissary Emil Converse, Aids-de-Camp Ray Herbert, Canton, and George Greenfelder, Massillon. Colonel Joseph Winum, of Akron, was also present in an unofficial capacity.

Captain Louis Volkmor, of the local commandary, No. 51, was commanding officer of the day and put the Navarre and Massillon Knights through some very difficult and intricate maneuvers, which elicited the applause of the large crowd of spectators. This was the first drill which the Massillon and Navarre companies had ever held together.

At 7 o'clock the Knights and commanding staff assembled in the school building, where the wives of the Knights had prepared an elaborate supper. There were one hundred and fifty covers. Schworm's orchestra rendered selections during the supper hour. At the close of the supper the Rev. H. V. Kaempker, of St. Mary's church opened the speech making. The Rev. J. F. Kuebler followed. Addresses were then made by the Rev. Father Alten, of West Brookfield, Colonel Forster, Colonel Winum, Major Sell, Major Hogan, Adjutant Faust, Inspector Smith, Quartermaster Peter Obringer, Paymaster P. J. Conlin and Commissary Emil Converse.

After the addresses Miss Florence Forster, daughter of Colonel Forster, sang. A. J. Paul and Schworm's orchestra furnished musical selections.

Fifty Navarre people were present.

CALLED LAW-ABIDING.

But, Says Mayor Albright, Most Communities Are Not.

Mayor Albright, of Sebring, who addressed a large audience at the Salvation Army barracks Saturday evening, took his text from Acts, 1, 8: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you and ye shall be witnesses unto Me, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

Mayor Albright said, "Our community is called a law-abiding community but we break many laws which must be kept if we can truly be called a law-abiding community. Jesus Christ does not teach the law in a direct manner but he teaches the grace of God and by this grace the laws will be kept. There are three great phyiscal events in a man's life: First, when he is born into this world; second, when he gets married, and third when he dies. There are also three great spiritual events in a man's life. First, the acceptance of Jesus Christ; second, when he is baptized into the kingdom of Jesus Christ, and third when he goes into the great beyond to join the triumphant army in heaven. And from the testimonials which we have just heard coming from these christian people we can easily judge which three events are the most profitable and enjoyable. To be a follower of Jesus Christ you must bear persecution. Because, when with the grace of God in your hearts you rebuke those people who do not love Jesus Christ they will turn against you and revile you, but God Almighty will have your reward ready for you in heaven."

McLEOD-PARR MATCH.

Contest Will Take Place at Buffalo Friday.

It is likely that there will be at least a few Massillonians at the mat's side when James Parr, formerly of this city, and Dan McLeod, meet at Buffalo next Friday.

McLeod's friends are of the opinion that he has a much harder proposition on his hands than he can ably take care of. He agrees to throw Parr three times inside of one hour for a side bet of $1,000. Should Parr be able to gain one fall he will be given $500 of the side bet. Both men are evenly matched as far as weight is concerned. McLeod has proved himself to be a great wrestler, and Parr has surprised all followers of the sport by his cleverness in breaking holds.

Both men will tip the scales close to 175 pounds. In a handicap match McLeod is at a disadvantage, as Parr can keep on the defensive entirely, rather than take a chance of losing the match by going on the offensive. Yet he may take the chance, when he thinks that McLeod is unable to gain the three required falls. McLeod has implicit faith in his ability to turn the trick. This was shown when he posted his money. The winner of the match will be given a chance with Jenkins and this is the goal of McLeod. Ever since the Cleveland man defeated him last November he has wanted a return match, but the Scotchman claims that Jenkins would not meet him.

Although the articles of agreement call for the referee to be named one week before the match, the selection will not be made until Tuesday. Matt Hinkel has been suggested as referee, and is known to be favored by the Parr backers. As Hinkel has given the best of satisfaction in the matches in Cleveland, there is no question of his ability. The majority of the Cleveland party will leave on Thursday evening by boat, while others will leave Friday noon by train.

PREPARED TO STRIKE.

Anthracite Miners May Go Out April 27.

Indianapolis, April 14.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers, after a week's session in this city, adjourned Saturday without making public the policy adopted regarding the anthracite coal field trouble further than to announce that the matter has been left in the hands of President Mitchell and the anthracite district officers, pending the result of the negotiations of the National Civic Federation committee.

It is intimated, however, that preparations have been made for a general strike immediately after the expiration of the thirty-day truce between miners and operators, April 27, if the operators shall refuse to make terms.

TALK OF MR. MILLER

His Subject Was "Steam Engineering."

A MEETING OF ENGINEERS.

Importance of Honesty, Industry and Sobriety on Part of Mechanics — Mechanical Problems Propounded and Explained—License Law Discussed.

E. E. Miller, district examiner of stationary engineers, gave an interesting illustrated lecture on "Steam Engineering" before the local association of Stationary Engineers, Saturday night, at Snyder's hall. Practically all the members and many others were present.

Mr. Miller commenced his talk with a few remarks about the importance of cleanliness about the engine and boiler room. In speaking of this subject Mr. Miller said: "I can always tell an engineer's character by the condition in which he keeps his engine room. If oil and waste strew the floor and rust be present on the machinery, it almost always follows that the engineer having in charge such a room is a careless and incompetent person." Mr. Miller dwelt on the necessity of the engineer refraining from intoxicating liquors.

By the aid of pen and ink drawings Mr. Miller then gave a very instructive talk on the safe pressure of boilers, the proper bracing or staying of boilers and heads, formulas for working out problems of this kind, etc.

Mr. Miller requested the engineers present to question him on any subject which was not thoroughly understood by them as it might help them in the examinations which the engineers now have to take. Many of those present took advantage of this opportunity and Mr. Miller was kept busy answering questions for a while.

The motto of the association, "Honesty, Industry and Sobriety," Mr. Miller discussed at some length. He also talked on the license law of the state, and the educational revolution it has wrought among engineers.

W. R. Slater, a well known member of the local association, also made a brief address. He introduced Mr. Miller. W. E. Lewis, president of the branch, presided at the meeting.

Following the lecture of Mr. Miller, a general discussion on mechanics took place, all present participating.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.
